

HOW TO STUDY A CITY: METHODS FOR URBAN RESEARCH

With

Lisa Björkman

(University of Louisville)

Tarini Bedi

(University of Illinois Chicago)

Min Tang

(Tongji University)

RSVP QR

TUE 29 SEPT

3:45-5:15 PM

W516

Three urban ethnographers on how one actually studies a city: gaining access, following people and infrastructures, working across languages, and knowing when a method has stopped serving the question. Aimed at students thinking about fieldwork of their own, in Shanghai or elsewhere.